

European Waste Catalogue Codes for waste from toilets

The following codes should be considered for waste from the portable toilet/storage tank waste:

16 10 01* aqueous liquid wastes containing dangerous substances

16 10 02 aqueous liquid waste other than those mentioned in 16 10 01

The waste would in principle need to be assessed to determine if it is hazardous. This may need to consider the type of chemicals used, the quantity of chemicals used, and the residual quantities present in the waste. Although we might normally expect the result of this assessment to be 16 10 02, any waste that does possess hazardous properties must be classified under 16 10 01*.

The following code should be considered for waste for sludge from septic tanks.

20 03 04 septic tank sludge.
